

COAT OF ARMS

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY of BRITISH COLUMBIA

B.C.'s Coat of Arms was officially unveiled by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II in 1987. It is unique as it incorporates Her Majesty's Royal Crest at the top – the crowned lion standing on the imperial crown. British Columbia is the only sovereign jurisdiction to be granted use of the Royal Crest. To differentiate B.C.'s Royal Crest from the original, it has been changed to include the crowned lion wearing a collar of dogwood flowers. Below the crown is a helmet – the heraldic symbol of sovereignty – that represents B.C.'s provincial sovereignty in our Canadian system. The red and white mantling displays Canada's official colours, which represents the British and the French.

The Royal Union flag with the centre crown symbolizes our colonial origins. The setting sun indicates we are the western-most province and next to the Pacific Ocean which is represented by the blue stripes. The white stripes represent the snow on the Rocky Mountains. On the left side, the elk represents the former Colony of Vancouver Island. The bighorn sheep on the right represents the former Colony of British Columbia. The Latin motto at the bottom – “splendor sine occasu” – means “Splendour without Diminishment” or “Beautiful British Columbia.” Entwining the motto is another dogwood garland.

B.C. FACTS AND FIGURES

- B.C.'s highest point is Mount Fairweather, on the Alaska border (4,663 m)

- B.C. is Canada's 3rd largest province with nearly 10% of Canada's total land area

- B.C.'s climate varies from marine to continental
- B.C. is Canada's western-most province made up of 95 million hectares

- B.C. has rich habitats of forests, grasslands, wetlands, meadows, rivers, inter-tidal and sub-tidal zones that support the most diverse plants and animals in Canada

- B.C. borders Yukon and the Northwest Territories to the north, Alberta to the east, Alaska to the northwest, and the U.S. states of Washington, Idaho, and Montana to the south

- B.C.'s population is nearly 5 million

- B.C. has 60% of the world's mountain goats and 25% of the world's grizzly bears and bald eagles

- B.C. entered into Confederation on July 20, 1871

- B.C.'s capital city is Victoria

PARLIAMENTARY EDUCATION OFFICE

PEO@leg.bc.ca  BCLegislature  LegislativeAssemblyBC

www.leg.bc.ca